- c) return the information and file a certificate to the effect that any notes or copies, in paper or electronic format, have been sealed or destroyed.

Part III. Disclosure of Material Pursuant to Law

13. Nothing in this Order shall be construed as abrogating from the legal requirements binding either disputing party in respect of privilege, ground for exemption or non disclosure or public interest immunity arising under common law or national legislation.
14. Each disputing party shall provide prompt written notice to the other disputing party of any request to disclose confidential information.
15. Any request to the Government of Canada for documents under the Access to Information Act, including documents produced to Canada in these proceedings, shall be subject to that Act.

18. Notwithstanding any other provision in this Order, the disputing parties may make such disclosure of documents or information as is required by law, including disclosure pursuant to Articles 1127 and 1129 of the NAFTA.
19. For greater certainty, the Government of Canada shall be entitled to share confidential information with provincial or territorial governments to the extent necessary to defend this claim. Canada will notify any provincial or territorial government receiving confidential information of the terms of this Confidentiality Order. A provincial or territorial government receiving confidential information shall treat this information as if it were a disputing party under this Order.
20. Once information protected under this Order has been properly released to a member of the public pursuant to legal requirements, that information shall be deemed to be public and shall no longer be subject to the obligations of this Order.

PART IV. Conduct of Article 1118 Consultations

21. The disputing parties agree that this Order governs all aspects of this dispute, including any consultations or negotiations conducted pursuant to NAFTA Article 1118. This Order shall apply to the convening of the consultations, all correspondence related to the consultations and any post-consultations communications.
22. All statements made in connection with or during the consultations are confidential and privileged settlement discussions. All such statements are made without prejudice to either disputing party's legal position, and shall be inadmissible for any purpose in any legal proceeding. Any information disclosed by or on behalf of a disputing party shall be confidential and shall not constitute a waiver of any privilege. Any files or notes created or maintained by the disputing parties are solely for their own use and shall be destroyed following the termination of the consultations.
23. Either disputing party to this Order may obtain injunctive relief to prevent disclosure of any confidential information in violation of this Order.

PART V. Conduct of Proceedings and Public Disclosure of Documents

24. The hearings shall be open to the public except when necessary to protect confidential information. Where proceedings are held in camera, the Tribunal shall make appropriate orders respecting witness exclusion from the hearings.
25. Subject to terms of this Order, and any agreement between the disputing parties, the disputing parties agree that either disputing party shall be free to disclose to the public, including by posting on the internet, the following materials:

Any material disclosed to the public pursuant to this paragraph shall not contain any information designated by a disputing party as confidential.

26. Except as permitted by this Order, neither disputing party shall publicly disclose material produced by the other disputing party in the course of this dispute.
27. A disputing party has thirty (30) days from the date of notice by the other disputing party of its intent to publicly disclose the material referred to in this Order, to object to disclosure on the basis that it contains confidential information. Such material may not be released prior to the end of this period unless both disputing parties have confirmed that they do not object to such release or agree on the redaction of the material containing confidential information.

28. Where counsel for either disputing party reasonably expect that information, whether documentary or oral, designated by a disputing party as confidential information shall be referred to during the course of any hearing held by the Tribunal, then such portion of the hearing as is reasonably necessary to protect that confidential information shall be conducted in camera and may only be attended by those persons designated in this Order.
29. The proceedings shall not be recorded in any way, except by a court reporter, and shall not be broadcast, unless the disputing parties jointly agree otherwise.
30. Transcripts of the proceedings containing any information designated by a disputing party as confidential information shall be redacted.
31. At the conclusion of these proceedings, all material produced hereunder, or otherwise submitted to the Tribunal, and any copy of those materials and any materials containing any confidential information, are to be returned to the disputing party who supplied the materials, together with certification that no duplicate has been retained. Should either party believe it is precluded from complying with this obligation by reason of the application to it of mandatory domestic legislation, the Tribunal will consider any reasoned application that party wishes to make that some or all of the documents produced by the other party during the course of these proceedings be excluded from this obligation. Any such application shall be made after the evidentiary production has been completed and prior to the oral hearing and be supported by the relevant authorities. Returning material from the files of the Tribunal or the administering institution shall require the prior approval of the Tribunal.
32. This Order shall be effective and binding upon a disputing party upon the signature of the Order by the Tribunal.
